

AQUINAS & THE ARABS

CALL FOR PAPERS & READERS

11TH ANNUAL ONLINE INTERNATIONAL LIVE VIDEO GRADUATE STUDENT WORKSHOP

GRADUATE OFFICERS OF THE AQUINAS & THE ARABS INTERNATIONAL WORKING GROUP ARE ACCEPTING PAPERS ON:

- Thomas Aquinas
- Medieval Jewish philosophy
- Medieval Islamic philosophy
- Intersections between any of these
- Related topics

Submit all materials and questions to Seth Kreeger @ seth.kreeger@marquette.edu

WORKSHOP FORMAT

- The workshop is online to reduce cost and allow student colleagues from around the globe to participate.
- Rather than full live paper presentations, presenters will have their papers emailed (not for distribution or quotation outside the conference) to participants and readers in advance to be read prior to the workshop.
- Presenters have ~10 minutes to summarize and point attention to particular issues within their paper. The remaining time will be devoted to substantive discussion regarding the paper.

The purpose of this conference is for the advancement of Medieval Philosophy and the joining of young scholars around the world for this shared enterprise.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Hosted through Online Video Connection Internationally

- March 17th & 18th 2023
- Actual conference times and schedule will be settled and communicated to presenters after abstracts are accepted

NOTE: The conference is held on US Central Daylight Time (UTC -5)

GRADUATE STUDENTS

- Submit a 250 word abstract and current CV by February 19th, 2023
- If the abstract is accepted, the final paper needs to be submitted by March 12th, 2023

NON-PRESENTING READERS:

- To express interest in participating in the conference and receive copies of our presenter's papers please email seth.kreeger@marquette.edu no later than March 12th, 2023