

The AAIWG invites you to the annual AAIWG Online Reading Group (2024-2025)

Every third Saturday of the month at 10 AM
Milwaukee time on

Contextualising the Pre-modern Philosophy: Explorations of the Greek, Hebrew, Arabic and Latin Traditions, 2023, ed. by K. Krause, L. X. López-Farjeat and N. A. Oschman.

Join us to discuss the volume with the authors

January 13: Narrating Premodern Philosophy in Greek Hebrew, Arabic, and Latin: Origins, Developments, Innovation, K. Krause, L. X. López-Farjeat, N. A. Oschman

January 27: Why the Prime Mover Is Not an Exclusively Final Cause: Alexander of Aphrodisias and Averroes, David Twetten

February 24: How Light Makes Color Visible: The Reception of Some Greco-Arabic Theories (Aristotle, Avicenna, Averroes) in Medieval Paris, 1240s–50s, Therese Scarpelli Cory

March 30: The Emergence of a Science of Intellect: Albert the Great's De intellectu et intelligibili, Henryk Anzulewicz

April 27: Roger Bacon and His "Arabic" Sources in His Moralis philosophia, Thérèse-Anne Druart

May 25: Anniyya faqat Again: Reading Liber de causis 8[9] with Richard C. Taylor, Cristina D'Ancona

June 29: Institution and Causality in Albert the Great's Sacramental Theology, Isabelle Moulin

September 23, MONDAY: Philoponus and Forms, Owen Goldin

October 26: Ontology and Logic in Avicenna's Concept of Truth: A Commentary on Ilahiyat 1.8, Olga L. Lizzini

November 30: Action by Being Alone in the Plotiniana Arabica, Michael Chase

January 11, 2025: Averroes on Imagination (takhayyul) as a Cognitive Power, Deborah L. Black Contact for further details: Nicoletta Nativo (nativon@ff.cuni.cz), Ivonne Maria Acuna (imacuna@up.edu.mx), Atefeh Esmaeili (esmaili.at@gmail.com).